

Total Document Solutions announces acquisition of consultIG, an international Information Governance consultancy

Washington, D.C. (Tuesday, February 13, 2018) – Total Document Solutions, Inc. (TDS), a leading records and information management company and back-office managed services organization, is pleased to announce the acquisition of consultIG, a provider of Information Governance solutions. Over the years, consultIG has helped organizations in the Legal, Energy, Corporate and Healthcare marketplaces with the development of holistic Information Governance programs. Consulting offerings will include needs assessments, technology evaluation, creation and maintenance of records retention schedules, development of enterprise strategic plans as well as partnering with organizations to recommend solutions to substantially improve their information workflow. This acquisition also strengthens TDS' scale, as consultIG has performed projects on multiple continents. Brent Gatewood, MBA, CRM who serves as Chief Technology Officer and Director of Information Governance, will oversee the new division of TDS. Said Gatewood "I look forward to working closely with TDS' clients to further develop and implement unified IG programs. I am also excited to bring consultIG's existing clients to TDS."

"For over 17 years, TDS's focus has been serving the legal community, Fortune 500 and most recently the energy sector," says Jennifer Graham, Principal. "Offering IG solutions to our existing and future clients will be a significant enhancement to our overall service offering."
